

Online Dual Enrollment

Lee University's Online Dual Enrollment Program is a fantastic way to complete college coursework efficiently and inexpensively, giving you a head start on your progress toward a college degree.

All of our online dual enrollment courses are asynchronous, which means your course work and instruction occurs when you log in, no matter the time of day.

Online DE Program courses are specifically created with the DE student in mind. They are courses in the general core curriculum, which means DE students will take those classes in their pursuit of a bachelor's degree, no matter what major path they will choose once they are enrolled as a full-time college student. They are also led by faculty chosen for their expertise in instruction, particularly of students with the profile of the busy high school student.
