

Stalking

Stalking of another individual is strictly forbidden. This includes, but is not limited to, unwelcome contact by voicemails, text messages, internet communications, emails, sending messages via other people, following people and being in the vicinity of others when asked specifically not to do so. Violations of this policy will result in either disciplinary measures or suspension.